Readings

Your weekly reading assignments will be found in the Readings section for the week. The text for this course is a custom created open source text that will be embedded into the courseware as PDF readings.

The readings supplement the lecture videos. Questions specific to the readings will be found in the Comprehension Checks, Pre-Labs, and Labs.

Optional Readings

Some references and suggestions for further reading will be listed in the Readings section for the week in case anyone is especially interested in the topic.

These readings are optional and will not be tested.
